

London Semester Programme

In cooperation with the University of Connecticut (UConn)

We offer the AES London Semester Programme, which affords you the option to study and intern in London under School of Record (SoR) arrangements. Beginning in 2021, the programme will run for 15 weeks during the fall and spring semesters, allowing you to gain practical experience while earning academic credit. All majors are eligible for the programme. There will additionally be an eight-week summer session option.

Together with an unpaid internship for up to 18 hours a week, students will undertake a weekly work placement seminar. In addition, programme participants will have the option to enrol in up to three classes under the AES/UConn cooperative agreement.

Students will choose from a selection of UConn courses from within the following subject areas:

Arts & Media

Drama & Literature

Psychology & Social Sciences

Pre-professional fields

Housing

Students are housed in friendly and secure neighbourhoods in central London (Zone 1 or 2). All flats have a full kitchen and lounge area, with 1, 2 or 3 bedrooms. The flats include weekly cleaning and internet access. Although conveniently located near a variety of attractions and shopping, students may need to commute to their internship site.

Program Fee Includes:
