› MÜNSTER – AN IDEAL PLACE TO STUDY

Owing to its many young people, its academic institutions, and its diverse and exciting cultural offerings, Münster is a very liveable city. Bicycles are the main mean of transportation in the city and contribute to its pleasant environment. This captivating and inviting university city features an especially youthful atmosphere and cozy charm.

Parks lend themselves to various activities, adding to the excellent quality of life in the Münster region. Lake Aasee – located next to the city center – is ideal for strolling, having a picnic, jogging, and sailing. Münster has a lot of cultural offers: its many museums, theaters, cinemas, pubs, and festivals ensure variety and entertainment.

Germany is the number one destination for international students. The resources are excellent, as evidenced by a wide range of courses taught in English and the global focus of the universities. Additionally, in Münster students do not have to pay tuition, and international students are charged the same reasonable administration fees as native students.

› THE UNIVERSITY OF MÜNSTER

The Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität (University of Münster, WWU) was founded in 1780 and is now the fifth-largest university in Germany. The WWU is known for the high quality of education available in 130 fields of study ranging from Archeology to Zoology.

The university is well respected in the international academic community. Many of Münster's research teams participate in or lead global organizations. The international focus of the WWU is also evident in its cross cultural exchange programs. About 700 visiting researchers currently work at the WWU, and more than 3,500 international students are enrolled at the university.

› THE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS

SBE is one of Germany's leading faculties in the area of business administration, economics and information systems. The integration of these three departments within one school is a special feature of SBE. Thus, teaching and research focuses on a variety of topics: accounting, marketing, management, finance, applied economics, quantitative economics, information systems, and interdisciplinary economics. With about 5,500 students and 43 professors, our school is not only one of the most prestigious, but also one of the largest business schools in Germany. SBE is one out of only nine business schools in Germany that is holding AACSB accreditation – the internationally most acknowledged accreditation for business schools.

As an intellectual leader in the German higher education market, we provide a complex learning, teaching and research environment for students, staff and faculty, which is characterized by the appreciation of academic values, mutual respect, collegiality, individual and common responsibility, and professionalism.

› INTERNATIONAL FOCUS

Internationalization takes a high priority at the School of Business and Economics. In both research and teaching, the school cooperates closely with more than 100 institutions abroad and maintains a vivid worldwide network. Professors and junior researchers are active members of international research groups. Every year, SBE welcomes an impressive number of international guest students, postgraduates and renowned guest researchers from all over the world.

The school's International Relations Center (IRC) provides services for international and domestic students, teaching staff, and professors. Furthermore, the IRC coordinates the school's international partner network and works on the internationalization of SBE.

› CORPORATE AND ALUMNI RELATIONS

SBE is one of a few business schools in Germany that operates its own Career Development Center (CDC) which serves the specific needs of our students. The CDC's responsibility is to link SBE's teaching programs with the requirements of the labor market and to provide many types of support to prepare students to launch successful careers upon graduation. The activities and related services aim at teaching students how to identify career opportunities that suit their individual strengths and interests as well as equipping them for a life-long career in management.

AlumniUM e.V. is the official worldwide network of former students of the SBE with more than 3,000 members. The association aims to form strong partnerships between alumni, students, the SBE and corporations. The network provides graduates and current students with a variety of services, e.g. an active online community, regular newsletters, events, regional chapters and a mentoring program.
